Personal C-19 Care Packs for All

Our marvellous site team members continue to demonstrate care for the workforce and a commitment to best practice under COVID 19 restrictions.

As these pictures illustrate, this week they've procured and prepared personal care packs for everyone who comes to site. These can be collected from the signing - in area and are the result of the great deal of thought that continues to be dedicated to devising ways to keep the site's key workers safe and maintaining morale in these testing times.

Everyone on site carries letters from the project and Highways England which, along with ID, confirm their status as Key Workers, as defined by the government. To date, not one member of the team has been challenged to prove why they are travelling or are outside during lockdown, which is testament to the way they conduct themselves as well as the high regard in which the public holds our nation's key works.

The C-19 care packs were snapped up by the team, clearly sparking joy in some. The team will continue to rise to the challenges posed in this time of C-19 and we look forward to seeing what Chris and co. come up with next.

The packs contain gloves, hand sanitiser, several face masks and helpful information about health and wellbeing for those who continue to work away from home during the pandemic.
