

Average stopping distances at 30mph

Dry 14m

Wet 28m

Snow 140m

Top tips for winter safety

Winter driving stopping distances

Did you know that stopping distances increase dramatically when driving in bad conditions? They can double in the wet and increase ten-fold in ice and snow. Remember to take extra care, drive at the right speed for the conditions and allow extra time for your journey if necessary.

Visit HighwaysSafetyHub/wintersafety to find out more.